English

Spellings to be learnt for a test on Monday.

Spelling rule = using hyphens for compound adjectives

Hyphens are used to 'glue' adjectives together before a noun. If the adjective comes after the noun, you don't use a hyphen.

- 1) The stainless-steel cutlery needs washing.

The sink was made of stainless steel.

- 2) The brightly-lit road was flooded.

The flooded road was brightly lit.

- 3) The long-lasting flowers finally died.

The flowers really had been long lasting.

- 4) Norwich's second-half goals were amazing.

Norwich scored 4 goals in the second half.

- 5) The well-cooked biscuits were thrown away.

The biscuits were well cooked.

- 6) She wore a full-length skirt.

Her skirt was full length.

- 7) He gobbled up the sweet-tasting cakes.

The cakes he ate were all sweet tasting.

However, some compound adjectives are hyphenated wherever they occur.

- 8) His clothes were rather old-fashioned.

He put on his old-fashioned clothes.

- 9) They certainly enjoyed the thought-provoking lesson on hyphens.

The enjoyable lesson on hyphens was certainly thought-provoking.

Please continue to read daily.

Maths

- Continue to practise your times tables target.
- Please can you also continue to practise telling the time at home (analogue as well as digital).
- Please look over your arithmetic test from this week (Spring Test 3) for a repeat test next week.
- Look over the SATs past paper 2005 that we did on Monday. We will be doing weekly past papers. Please do not complete any past papers at home.

Please continue to complete the specific pages in the SpaG and maths revision books. The letters which outline these specific pages can be found on the website on our class page under 'Home Learning.' An updated list of SPaG pages that can be completed has gone out today. An updated maths list will go out shortly. If you need any help with anything in the revision books, please ask!

Have a lovely weekend!
